

– Present Continuous with Future Meaning –

There is a new movie at the theatre this week. It will be there until Sunday night. I am going with my friend on Friday. We are eating supper at a restaurant and then watching the movie. We will certainly have a great time!

- Underline the verbs in the passage.
- Which verbs refer to the future?

Will they have a great time on Friday? ... Yes, they will. They will have a great time.

Is she going to the new movie with her friend on Friday? ... Yes, she is. She's going with her friend.

Are they eating at a restaurant on Friday? ... Yes, they are. They're eating at a restaurant.

Are they watching the new movie on Thursday? ... No, they aren't. They're watching it on Friday.

When are they going to the new movie? ... They are going on Friday.

What are they doing on Friday? ... They are eating at a restaurant and then going to the new movie.

Re-write the passage with new information, beginning with:

My favourite band is at the concert hall this week. _____

What are your plans for the weekend? List three things you want to do:

Describe your weekend. Use 'will' in some sentences; use '-ing' in some other sentences.
